7. [redacted] At the Director's suggestion and after conferring with [redacted] I called Richard Fryklund, DOD Legislative Affairs office, and told him if any of the Defense analysts wanted to talk with our counterparts on the subject of the Soviet presence in the Indian Ocean, [redacted] of OSR was the man they should contact. Fryklund said he would pass this on to Jim Noyes of ISA who is handling this for Defense.

8. [redacted] Mrs. Freedman, in the office of Senator Dewey Bartlett, called to say the Senator would like to take us up on our invitation for a breakfast/briefing at the Agency. The Senator is interested in getting background briefings on Soviet weapons programs and, as a newly appointed member of the CIA Subcommittee, would like to get a background briefing on the Agency in general. Mrs. Freedman said the Senator would not be available on 4, 5, 9, 10 or 11 June. I told her I would check the Director's calendar and be back in touch.
